DAINTIEST OF BIRD'S NESTS

Maple Leaf of Ordinary Size Will Conceal the Home of the Humming Bird.

The most exquisitely dainty home built by the bill and feet of birds is that of the ruby-throated hummingbird, says a writer in the Craftsman. When completed it is scarcely larger than an English walnut and is usually saddled on a small horizontal limb of a tree or shrub frequently many feet from the ground. It is composed almost entirely of soft plant fibers, fragments of spiders' webs sometimes being used to hold them in shape. The sides are thickly studded with bits of lichen, and practiced indeed is the eye of the man who can distinguish it from a knot on the limb. The eggs are the size of quinine pills.

Although the humming bird's nest is exceedingly frail, there appears to be nothing on record to show that any great numbers of them come to grief during the summer rains. It is, however, not called upon for a long tenure of occupancy. Within three weeks after the two little white eggs are laid the young have departed on their tiny pinions.

Rural Solomon.

"The court has taken your case into consideration, Mr. Silthers," said the judge, at Silthers' trial for violating the motor ordinances at Chickett's Corners, "and in view of what you've said, and with some trowth, about the badness of our roads hereabouts in your sworn testimony, I've decided not to fine ye $50, as the law permits."

"That's very square of you, Judge," said Silthers.

"We try to be square, Mr. Silthers," said the judge, "and instead of the $50 fine, we're going to sentence ye to work on them roads for ten days, in the hope that your superior wisdom as a road expert will make 'em considerably better."

PARADE

Will Be Given in the City before First Performance by the Circus.

There are parades and parades. Mankind's love for pageantry display dates back to the days when the immortal Caesar "brought many captives home to Rome." When, to give eclat to his fame, he entered the Eternal City with lavish display of glittering splendor; with fanfare of golden trumpets, chariots and beautiful maidens, who scattered flowers in the pathway of triumph.

So, Sig. Santelle and his aids, catering to that great critic, the public, will present to the good folk of Clarksburg Wednesday, September 10, a replica of those olden, golden days, with modern twentieth century accessories of the times luxuriant. The cages in his parade will be open. The wild and tame animals, behind secure iron bars, will gaze back an interested and amazed public. Prancing steeds, golden chariots, royal Bengal tigers, leopard, ards, panthers, jaguars, hyenas, cougars in fifteen open dens. Four bands of music, a coterie of funny clowns, to add humorous variety to the splendor of it all.

Those who delight in spectacular scenes should be early on the streets the morning of show day. The wondrous spectacle will excite and interest all, from kiddoes to grown-ups. Features of the big circus proper, the hippodrome, menagerie and wild West will appear in winding lines of scintillating pageant splendor. "Don't miss it, good people," as the balladist so eloquently beseeches. "Twill be the crowning glory of your lives. The keynote to revelry of keen enjoyment."

Good Time Now for Blood Health

Warm Days and Proper Help do Wonders for the Blood.

A few doses of that wonderful blood purifier, S. S. S., will start activities in the cellular tissues of the body and soon show decided changes in the skin. The skin is but a fine network of tiny blood vessels, and the specific action of S. S. S. is declared to be a pronounced stimulation of the activity of these cells. Certain it is that in a surprisingly short time any skin eruption shows a most remarkable change; it begins to dry up; the skin scales off in tiny flakes, and soon a layer of clear, healthy and firm tissue results.

The reason for this is in the peculiar stimulation of S. S. S., which enables the cells in the skin to select from the blood the nutrient it requires for regeneration. This fact has been demonstrated year in and year out in a wonderful number of cases of severe skin diseases that had seemed to be incurable.

You can obtain S. S. S. at any well stocked drug store, if you insist upon it, but be sure you are not talked into something "just as good."

S. S. S. is prepared by the Swift Specific Co., 18 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write for their illustrated book on skin diseases.

The Best Medicine in the World.

"My little girl had dysentery very bad. thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her and I can truthfully say that I think it is the best medicine in the world," writes Mr. William Orr, Clark, Mich. For sale at all dealers.—Advertisement.
